The Preliminaries of the Convention INFLUX OF STRANGERS-ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE

BALTIMORE, June 16-10 A. M. Again is our city in a ferment of political excitement For three days past there has been a constant influx of strangers from every section of the Union, and from every town and village of this State, drawn hitherward to tional Nominating Convention, which commenced its deliberations to-day, in the great hall of the Maryland Institute, the same building used by the recent Democratic Convention.

Profiting by the experience of their democratic predecessors, the whig Committee of A rrangements have made many improvements in arranging the hall; and in doing so have spared neither labor nor expense. The singe so have spared neither labor nor expense. The stage heretofore used has been removed, and in its place has been erected a large plaiform in the centre of the hall extending entirely across the building, the space at either end of the room being appropriated to spectators, each capable of accommodating 1,500 persons. The President's chair is placed on the west side of the hall, and the platform rises as it recedes from the chair, so as to enable these scated at the remotest part to overlook the rest of the convention. In order to prevent the neise caused by many feet moving over the floors, the platform has been beautifully carpeaed and the floors of the hall and galleries covered with matting. Scats have also been provided in every part of the building. Another mode to insure quiet has also been adopted, in spreading tan bark over the streets that surround the building on all sides.

The decorations of the noble saloon are of the most tasty and appropriate character. The walls, from the cornice down to the tops of the lefty windows, have been draped with red white and blue bunting whiat the gallery reiling has been similarly alorned. Over the President's chair is suspended a life-size painting of General Washington, and directly opposite is a full-length portrait of Henry Clay. On one side of the hall appears, in bold letters, the motio, "The Union of the Whigs for the sake of the Union." and on the other, Webster's great sentiment, "Union and Liberty, now and forever one and inseparatile." The gallery, opposite the President's chair, is replicated exclusively to the accommodation of ladies, whilst that on the other cide is for the use of members of Congress, of the State Legislature, and of the Cily Council and other invited guests.

The most admirable and ample accommodations have been made for the Fress and, in short, in every respect, the best judgment and taste has been exercised reflecting great erredit upon Win. Prescott Smith Eq., the gentlemanly superintendent of the whole affar.

They were unanimously adopted; and, on motion of Gen. Zollicoffer, of Tenn., the resolutions were referred to the Committee on Resolutions of the National Convention, and their adoption respectfully and carnestly recommended. A committee appointed to solicit the cooperation of the Webster delegates, reported that the resolutions were favorably received by them. The meeting then adjourned.

A meeting of the "nucompromising" if friends of Webster is now being heid in the upper saloon of Carroll Hall. Charles Torrey, of Ecoton, opened the proceedings, followed by Matthew Hale Smith in an eloquent speech. He affirmed that Daniel Webster was their first, last, and only choice—they had yielded herstofore to the Southern nominee, and now asked of the nation, as a matter of right that they give them to Daniel Webster. He was very severe on Scott.

The South will stand firm by Fillmore as long as he has a chance.

The Kentucky delegation have resolved to abide by the decision of the convention on the Compromise and platform.

Pennsylvania has resolved in caucus to go for Scott without wavering—to know no other candidate. Bringhurst, of the Fourth district, instructed for Fillmore, goes for Scott.

FIRST DAY.

THE CONVENTION CALLED TO ORDER BEFORE TIME-A SCOTT

Monoan arose for the purpose of calling the Convention to order, and just at the same moment organisation, and proposed the name of George Evans, of Me., as temporary Chairman. Mr. Draper put the ques-tion and declared it carried, although the response was by no means unanimous.

Many voices cried "take the chair," "take the chair."

Many volces cried "take the chair," "take the chair.

Mr. Ryans accordingly took the chair, and delivered the following address:—

Gentlemen—I beg leave to return my grateful and repectful acknowledgments to this Convention for the honor which I have just received at your hands, in being called to preside for a bird space over your preceedings. I am little experienced in the business of the chair, and shall have great occasion to rely upon your mended on the motion of Mr. Cowns, by adding, "and that each delegation select the member to be appointed." PROTEST AGAINST COMMENCING BUSINESS BEFORE THE HOUR APPOINTED. Before the question was taken. Mr. SEVIER, of Louisiana said-I desire to enter my protest against all the action which has taken place in this hall. The hour for the meeting of this convention was designated by the Louisiana, before the hour of twelve, as fixed by the time of the observatory of the city of Washington, and I find this meeting forestalled in its organization, when only a portion of the wbig delegations from the different States are present in this ball. (Applause.) I believe I am the only representative of Louisiana present, and several other delegations from Southern States are not represented—therefore. I beg the wbigs of the different States to decist from any furter action at present, if they decire unity and harmony, and the aucress of the whig party in this National Convention. The hour of twolve has not, I repeat, yet arrived—by the time it shall have arrived—by the true time, as regulated by the observatory at Washington—the delegates will all be in their seats and then we can select a temporary chalman and other officers by the entire voice of all the delegates. I implore gentismen not to pursue this course, for the throwing of the fire-brand of discourse will sail in the destruction and defeat of the whig party beyond the hope of redemation. (Applause.) I repeat, I hope no further action will take place until the hour of twelve shall have arrived, for the reasons stated. As to the selection of the present chairman. I have no objection. I honer him, for he is as true a whig as can be found; but I ask for the unity of our action, that you will not throw the irrebrand of discord in our midst, which will result in the total destruction of the high and patriotic objects which we have in view.

cord in our midst, which will result in the total destruction of the high and patriotic objects which we have in view.

A Voice—How many are not represented?
Mr. Severa—All the Louisiana delegation will be here when the hour of twelve arrives.

Notwithstanding this appeal of Mr. Sevier, the resolution for the appointment of a committee to report permanent officers, was then agreed to.
A delegate moved that each State be called in order, and that the chairman of each delegation should name the cummitteeman of that State. This was acceded to by the mover, and the States were called, when the following

THE COMMITTEES—DIFFICULTY ABOUT TAKING A RECESS, ETC.
After Fennsylvania was called the Hon. E. C. Carell., of Florida, moved that the committee to name and report permanent officers for the convention have leave to retire and proceed to their duies during the sitting of the convention, which motion was agreed to, and the committee left the hall.

When the selection of the Committee on Credentials was completed, the Hon. Mr. Vinton, of Ohio, suggested the propriety of a recess.

Mr. Talcort, of New York said that many delegates had left their credentials at the hotels, and could not now present them to the committee. He therefore suggested that each delegation should send the credentials of its members to the committee by the member of the committee relected from the delegation itself.

After some conversation, this was acceded to. The Committee on Credentials were requested to remain in the hall to £x upon the time and place for meeting.

Mr. Talcort then moved that the Convention take a recess till 7 celock.

Voices—"Four." "fivo." "six."—"seven" is too late.
Mr. Talcort—Well, I'll say six; that is a compromise.

The chair put the question on adjournment at half past twelve till six o'clock, and declared it carried, amid a storm of noes.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

LIKENESS OF HEARY CLAY, ETC.

Before the hour of 60 clock, Charles Glipin, on behalf of the whigs of the city and county of Philadelphia, presented to the Keniucky delegation a large and splendid medallion likeness of Henry Clay, set in a richly bronzed frame. It was received by Mr. Leelie Combs, to whom had been assigned the duty. The ceremony closed with a tone from the band of nousic in attendance.

At 5 minutes to 6 clock the convention was called to order.

THE COMMITTEE ON CREDENTIALS, FIG.

Mr. Warts of Virginia, said the Committee on Credentials had made some progress in their deliberations, but were not yet ready to report.

Mr. Warts—I will say there is no knowing when the committee will get through—perhaps not for two days. To-morrow we will report upon all cases where there is no centast.

Mr. Warts—I will say there is no knowing when the committee will get through—perhaps not for two days. To-morrow we will report upon all cases where there is no centast.

Mr. Warts—I will say known who were members of the convention; therefore he presed the motion to adjourn. THE BULKS—CREAT CONFUSION—PRAYER WANTED, SIC.

Mr. Warts, of Ohio, asked the gentleman to withdraw the motion, to enable him to offer a resolution.

Crice of "Read, read," "What is it?" "Order," "Sit down." &c., &c.

The resolution was read as follows:—

Bessired, Tians, until otherwise ordered, the rules for the proceedings of the House of Representatives of Congress, so far as applicable, be adopted for the government of this convention; and on the domand of a delegation of a State, the vote be taken by States—the delegates from each State shall cast the vote as ased delegation may determine, according to the number such State may be entitled to in the convention; and on the domand of a delegation of a State, the vote be taken by States—the delegates from each State shall cast the vote as ased delegation as add that all great undertakings, baving for their object the prospecity of the House of Representatives of Congress vote for officers, without determining first who are members of this Convention? Shall persons who are not entitled to state here, be allowed to vote for the permanent officers of this Convention? and are those who are each of this Convention? and are those who are each third to seats to be excluded? Refere proceeding forther, you must decide who are entitled to vote. You must decide who are not entitled to seats in this convention. I am willing to receive the report, and then lay it on the table. If the committee he not prepared then to report. I would move that we adjourn this to morrow at H o'clock.

Cares—No. no.

Mr. Caner.—I merely wish to say, that it is the universal custom in the House of Representatives and other lightafive bodies, that those who have the prima facts exignite the control of the House.

This was followed by great applayment a rise of fithetter.

we will now act upon it, adjoure, and to-morrow proceed to the business of the convention.

THE SPORT OF THE COMMITTEE-MR. CLAYTON'S SPEECH, ETC.
Mr. JOHN M. CLAYTON SAID—We were authorized by the convention, who appointed a committee of one from sock State to nominate officers for the consideration of this body. It was assumed by the convention that we had the right to make the recommendation. We have acted in obedience to what we understood to be the order, and have discharged the duty incumbent upon us. We have mast and deliberated. We differed in opinion; but we differed like men engaged in a common cause. There was no bitterness of feeling—a fair vote was taken—certain gentlemen were nominated by the majority of the committee, and then, as usual in such cases, the recommendation was agreed to as unanimous. I do not consider the mere question as to who is to be the presiding officer of this convention as of as much importance as others do. We have agreed upon a high minded and honorable gentleman, differing with me, perhaps, as to who shall be the nomines of the wisig party; yet I have unlimited common of the wisig party; yet I have unlimited common of the wisig party; yet I have unlimited common of the wisig party; yet I have unlimited common of the wisig party; yet I have unlimited common of the wisig party; yet I have unlimited common of the wisig party; yet I have unlimited common of the suggestion of the gentleman from Tennesse. Mr. Jones; that is to say, the question of organization should not now be made. Gentlemen may move to lay it on the table, and there it should be until it is ascertained, who are the members of the convention. After that it can be taken up and we can proceed to action. At all events, I shall now proceed to discharge the duties in can leave to the committee. The report was then read, as follows:—

General JOHN G. CHAPMAN, of Maryland.

Georgia—Seaten Grantiand.

Alakama—Thomas J. Trow.

SECRETARIES.

Louisiana—R. A. Upton.

N. Carloina—Jar M. Bryan.

Iowa—S. M. Ballard.

California—W. F. Stewart.

Indiana—W. F. Stewart.

Indiana—Schuyler Coffax.

Pennsylvania—J. C. Kunkle.

Delaware—Geo. W. Dealay.

Oprostrion to the Report.

Mr. John Sherran, of Ohio.—I move to lay that report on the table. I desire to preface the motion by a few remarks. It must be obvious to the convention that we cannot act upon that report now. Virginia is represented there in the same manner, by delegates far exceeding the number of votes to which those States are properly entitied to. Ohio is represented here by twenthree delegates, the same number to which also is entitled to vote for President. I appeal to the honor and justice of gentlemen representing, in such large numbers, these States, whether we can vote upon this report until we adopt some rule determining how and to what number the votes of States shall be cast. Virginia has forty-five delegates here—Louisiama, Kentucky, and other States are represented by large numbers of delegates. I want to know who are to cast the votes of those States, and what number of votes they shall cast? I therefore appeal to gentlemen from those States to lay this report on the table until some rule shall be adopted concerning this question.

I regnet that the resolution of the gentleman from Virgina was not adopted.

A Delegates has motion to lay on the table and debate

The CMAIN decided it was in order, no rules having been adopted by the convention

Mr. Ashara .—One question, if you please. Is it, not intended to make a contest on this question of planes.)

Mr. Shurman.—I want to know who of the delegates are entitled to vote.

Mr. J. H. Thomas, of Maryland, said—I rise to a point of order. If we have no rules, the Chair has no right to recognise the gentleman, to the exclusion of the right of order. If we have no rules, the Chair has no right to recognise the gentleman moves to table a proposition he ought to take his seat.

This created much confusion, and there were many ries of "Order."—"Order."

Mr. Thomas—I siek to my point of order.

Mr. Shumman—Stick to your seat.

The Chair—The gentleman from Ohio has the floor, and no one else is entitled to speak. (Applause.)

Mr. Thomas—I appeal from the decision of the Chair, on the ground of common sense. I appeal to the common sense of all mankind, and of this convention. He proceeded further, but was interrupted by commingied hisses and applause.

The Chair—I would like to submit the question to that Convention; but as no rules have been adopted, it knews of no rule on appeals.

Mr. Sheman then concluded his remarks amid much confusion.

Mr. Van Taumr, of Ohio, said he was surprised at the

of no rule on speaks.

Mr. Sherman then concluded his remarks amid much confusion.

Mr. Van Trumr, of Ohio, said he was surprised at the question put by the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. Ashmun.) He would like to ask that gentleman whether he intended to follow up the adoption of this report by any other important movement?

Mr. Assaurs.—Ask the question.

Mr. Van Trumr.—I do ask it.

Mr. Assaurs.—Then I rejoics to have an opportunity of addressing the convention, which I should not have had otherwise. I came here for no other purpose than to promote the great good of the great whig party of this Union. (Applause.) I am here for no factious purposes in selecting a President or temporary chairman of this convention. I came here to sustain what I believe to be the behests of the great mational Union party of the country. I have nothing to conceal, and, therefore, there is no conceiled for any gentleman to put a question to me to draw me cett. I know of no parliementary rule which restricts me from answering if at length. I know I shall call the gentleman my friend although I do not know his manned to the designation of the commend by a for one delegate from each State, recommend by a unanimous vote, officers for this convention, what is
